Executive Decision Support
Operate Globally with Confidence

iJET’s Executive Decision Support services give you the intelligence and insights you need to make high-quality and high-impact decisions.

INTELLIGENCE-BASED DECISION SUPPORT

Decision Advantage

Understand your environment. Protect your assets and investments. Give your organization decision advantage. iJET’s Executive Decision Support delivers tailored analysis to bring clarity to the hardest questions confronting your organization.

Decision-makers can only consider the full spectrum of risks and opportunities after they have a comprehensive understanding of the underlying dynamics of a given scenario. iJET’s Executive Decision Support draws on the expertise of a diverse staff of agile, experienced analysts to produce tailored, forward-looking assessments to deliver the relevant and reliable intelligence needed to support an organization’s most critical decisions. Whether you are looking to expand or recalibrate your current footprint; assess the risk of partnering with a new organization; or analyze the reaction to a recent or planned business decision, iJET’s Executive Decision Support services can help you make decisions of the highest quality. Our insights and intelligence products and services help you:

- Improve short- and long-term planning
- Avoid surprises and unnecessary risks
- Identify and take advantage of windows of opportunity
- Gain a competitive advantage
- Sidestep faulty decisions that would waste valuable resources

Our solutions are based on a methodology that leverages robust, global collection capabilities from a vast and varied set of sources, matched with rigorous and advanced analytic techniques proven to deliver valuable insights to executive stakeholders, from CEOs to presidents and prime ministers.

Enhance your organization’s ability to make swift, high-quality decisions. Reduce the chance and cost of missteps. Support decision-makers with reliable and timely insights.
Our Offerings

Whether you are expanding or recalibrating your organization’s global footprint, assessing the risk of an acquisition, or analyzing a business decision, iJET’s Executive Decision Support services offers the following products and services to help you dissect the risks and determine your best move.

Products and Solutions

- Location or Site Threat Assessment: Understand the risks and opportunities of a facility in a new location.
- Market Entry and Operational Risk Assessments: Assess and understand the operating and business environment for entering new markets.
- Online Threat Monitoring: Get early indicators of concern to protect your organization’s reputation or the safety and security of your assets, facilities, and leadership.
- Due Diligence Investigations: Uncover concerns prior to engaging or partnering with individuals or organizations.
- Scenario Forecasting: Review the range of scenarios that might unfold as they relate to business continuity decisions.

Foundation of Proven Intelligence

In a dynamic world with increasingly complex challenges, you have a powerful resource in iJET’s Executive Decision Support service. For more than a decade, iJET’s intelligence analysts and subject matter experts have been monitoring the world for threats and disruptions, helping organizations stay informed and react quickly. We offer:

- In-depth global intelligence for more than 180 countries and over 900 cities around the world, monitoring the world 24x7
- Analysts with expertise in a wide range of regions, sectors, and languages
- The ability to leverage methodologies and tradecraft developed in the Intelligence Community to support top-level decision-makers, and anticipate and resolve high-stakes problems
- A range of cost-effective solutions designed to inform a variety of business decisions
- Third-party validation from a trusted source that provides unbiased evaluations on degrees of exposure and underlying threat conditions
- Discreet research on areas of concern that may impact your brand or key decisions, protecting your anonymity

Our mission is to be the industry leader, providing tailored solutions to help our clients operate globally with confidence. Each day, our insights protect the personnel, assets, and investments of those we serve.

CONTACT US for more information at assessments@iJET.com.